(2) “The Visionaries” presents GUNTER PAULI, MBA. THE BLUE ECONOMY
The presenter is a member of the “environmental think tank”, the Club of Rome, who founded and directs the “Zero Emissions Research Initiative” Z.E.R.I. has spent 10 years demonstrating how we can do so much more with what nature provides. Imaginative innovations have already provided the know how for us to provide energy to power our civilization, without the destruction of our planet.
Highly surprising, interesting and pointing the way to a sustainable future. Imagine, (for instance), providing power for 20 years, based on wind power at a cost of $1, and with no destruction of our planet.
Don't miss it!

News from A.R.E. Headquarters

1. We are beginning to move the A.R.E. Library into the digital age. I'm pleased to report that we have taken the first steps toward developing a Virtual Library. This could not have happened without your support. Thank you! And let's keep it rolling. With your continued support, the more we are able to accomplish!

There are several phases to this project. Once completed, there will also be a virtual tour of the Library! The Virtual Library will allow folks from all over the world to "visit" the A.R.E. Library and allow them to access the wisdom and inspiration found in the Cayce material. As a part of our "digital age" project, we are also preserving and digitizing historic photos and lectures that will be accessible online in the future.

This project not only helps preserve the past, it helps to inspire younger generations by sharing the abundant wealth of knowledge of the Cayce work. Together, I know we can keep this project advancing. Your donations make this possible. Thank you.. Sincerely,

Laura Hoff
Library Manager and Edgar Cayce Foundation
Supervisor

. Donate $100 or more and you'll receive an exclusive audio CD of Edgar Cayce giving a reading back in 1934 as well as a copy of a letter "On Patience," handwritten by Edgar Cayce in 1932.

From the Edgar Cayce Readings

262- 24 This was a question asked by the first Edgar Cayce Spiritual Growth Group. Cayce gave 130 Readings to this group, regarding the process of Spiritual growth.

(Q) Please explain Matthew 24:34 "Verily I say unto you, this generation shall not pass, till all these things be fulfilled."

(A) Those individuals that were in hearing and in keeping of those things presented by the Master in that experience would be in the manifested form in the earth during the periods of fulfillments in the earth of the prophecies spoken of. Not in what is termed as generation of four score and ten years, but the experiences of those souls in the earth during those periods when there must shortly come the completing or fulfilling of those things spoken of.

Editor's Note:- With regard to all the present changes in our lives on earth at this time - Crisis point December 2012- this answer would suggest to me that the individuals who were involved with Jesus in his life 2000 years ago are incarnated on earth now. What do you think?

Edgar Cayce's Earliest Psychic Readings – by Simpson.

Edgar Cayce, the Edgar Cayce who was become America's legendary mystic, attending Sunday school classes around ten. The lesson being taught on that first story of creation from the book of Genesis. mesmerized. He asked his father for a the entire story of creation in it, and soon gift of his own personal Bible. Edgar's life- and expertise in, the contents of the had commenced. Edgar quickly vowed to entire Bible at least once each year for the life, a promise he faithfully kept. But, at considered himself ten readings in arrears. fourteen years old when he completed his complete reading of the Bible. He was regarded as the local Biblical expert and began teaching adult Bible classes while still a teenager.

Edgar was fourteen when he experienced his first vision. One night, as Edgar was almost asleep, his room suddenly lit up like the sun peeking through a crack in a cloud-covered sky. Standing at the end of his bed, he noticed the figure of a woman and, in his semi-conscious state, assumed it was his mother and called out to her. The light and the figure of the woman disappeared. Edgar hopped out of bed and went into his mother's room to see what she had wanted, and was advised that she had not been in his room and to go back to bed. Edgar was not snuggled back in bed for long when the bright light and the lady reappeared. Edgar assumed it was an angel, and never forgot the words that the lady-in-the-light said to him: "Thy prayers are heard. You will have your wish. Remain faithful. Be true to yourself. Help the sick, the afflicted."

Appreciation

"While one participates in the linear it is important to value what has been given from your eternal energy. Your life may be filled with drama but the intention of the soul is ever present. Your thoughts create the choices and the choices made determine how the linear is played out.

There is great confusion when more focus is given to the linear than the eternal energy. Definition of connection is often lost in what some perceive as a difficult incarnation. There can be a feeling of despair as one moves more into the drama instead of pausing to appreciate their soul.

Of course there are many schools of thought on the subject. Whilst honoring all of them we merely wish to point out the core energy needed to create one's reality. It is extremely important to understand and appreciate the soul's ability.

The soul being ever hopeful & energetic wishes to eliminate negativity and drama. If there is a separation the thought process can create negative moments. Thought is the tool to change and create your reality. Its connection with the soul energy is the key to opening a connection between them.

No matter what negative circumstances you find yourself in, a reversal is available through an appreciation of your soul energy.

How does one do that?

We would say forgiveness of the self for past negative choices and to seek a reconnection to the self. Instead of cursing one's life perhaps a simple moment of gratitude for the life would be appropriate.

Nothing is gained from negativity. Seek the one good moment in your life. No matter what you feel there is always one good moment. Attach to the feeling of that energy & recreate the moment. Align with your soul. If given the opportunity it will redeem a negative perspective.

Appreciate the life your soul has created. It is special and unique. If you are unhappy a return to the soul is necessary."

--VERONICA

The Positive Evolution of Your Soul

"The linear life is seeded with opportunity as it unfolds. Experiences arise, relationships are created, and a reality is set into motion as one lives the life.

In the youthful times choices made often return to haunt as the soul ages in the body. Memories of choices often intrude upon the present causing emotional regrets. It is important to balance these thoughts with the notion that they have led you to where you are now.

If you feel that the choices left you in a negative present, the only way to proceed is to forgive yourself. By doing so you leave yourself in a now to create future experiences in a more suitable fashion. Regardless of where your choices leave you, regretting does nothing to help you create the present moment. You cannot alter the past to color the now. Be your full soul now no matter what has preceded the moment. It is the only way to continue towards positive evolution of the soul." -- VERONICA

From Our Readers:- Study group member's obituary.

(A) Vivienne Lorraine Hall

My Friend

1 January 1946 – 14 June 2010

For, as has been given, it is not all of life to live, nor yet all of death to die. For life and death are one, and only those who will consider the experience as one may come to understand or comprehend what peace indeed means. (Edgar Cayce Reading 1977-1)

Vivienne loved Edgar Cayce, the 'Sleeping Prophet' who lived a remarkable life. She became a member of his association, A.R.E. and joined the Cayce Study Group for Spiritual Growth. I found Vivienne to be an incredible person whose thirst for understanding life was unquenchable. When we would come together for studies, she would always ask, "But why? How come? Why is it this way? Is it true?" The questions about life's mysteries came from her heart, from her sincere yearning to understand. When I met her, Vivienne's life was filled with spiritual wonder; I felt that everything she did was a fulfillment of her spirituality. In spite of her failing health, the wonderment of God's grace filled her – and she was aware of it. She was a woman of courage and faith.

I think of Vivienne as a beautiful garden where flowers bloom in their own time beneath the warm light of the Sun. She died of cancer in the arms of her loving husband, Peter, her true soul mate. Regardless of the sorrow death brings to our hearts, Vivienne's timing was right. She had bloomed into the soul she was meant to be. She finished the 'good flight', she fulfilled the purpose of her life, and her child-like soul went forth into God's loving embrace. Her struggles have not been in vain because, in Him, she now really understands and fully enjoys the wonders of the Christ.

Vivienne, while we mourn your passing, we must also remember to celebrate your eternal life with The Heavenly Father. They say that death does not take life away – it only changes it. For, as has been given, it is not all of life to live, nor yet all of death to die. For life and death are one, and only those who will consider the experience as one may come to understand or comprehend what peace indeed means. (1977-1)

Thank you, Vivienne, for being You!
Love always,

Rosie Maltos

(Editor's Note:- Our prayers join with yours, Rosie, for Vivienne in her transition and for her family in their life changes. May each one be comforted and truly blessed !)

Good Advice From John Maxwell

Failure is an inside job

...So is success. If you want to achieve, you have to win the war in your thinking first. You can't let the failure outside get you inside. You certainly can't control the length of your life, but you can control its depth. You can't control the contour of your face but you can control its expression. You can't control the weather, but you can control the atmosphere of your mind. Why worry about things you can't control, when you Can keep yourself busy controlling the things that depend on you?
